

2020 Inc. Female Founders 100

Smart, savvy, successful, and recognized by Inc. as exemplary—you're one of the Female Founders 100. Congratulations!

Each year, Inc.'s editors set out to feature the most fascinating women in entrepreneurship. We look at our reporting, scour funding reports and social media, survey sources, and solicit nominations. And without fail, we receive not just a hundred or even a couple hundred recommendations, but thousands of them.

The vetting is tough, but the process is an education and an inspiration. And the 99 women who made the cut with you are there because, among giants, you all truly stand just a bit taller.

And that's good—in turbulent times, your insight and advice, and your company name, simply need to be seen and shared, as they will be, in the October issue of Inc. magazine, and in our list on Inc.com. We hope you'll share your good news—and the wisdom you have to offer—to as many customers, colleagues, and teammates as you can. After all, you have something to say and they just might benefit from hearing it. Kudos again for being named to Inc.'s Female Founders 100.

Sincerely,

Scott O.
